

Keys to Transition is a program offered by NIFCS for youth in care ages 15 to 19. The program's goal is to equip youth leaving the umbrella of Child Protective services with the life skills required to successfully transition to independent living.

KEYS TO TRANSITION

The program will create learning environments for youth, focusing on:

- Social transition — relationships, community participation, housing, health and well-being (including self-esteem and identity) and the development of practical skills required for independent living;
- Economic and financial transition — education/training, employment and income and
- Cultural Permanency — Accessing First Nation role models throughout the program to encourage and support cultural permanency.

The program has five key competencies:

- Essential Skills
- Work Skills
- Career Exploration
- Employability Readiness

KEYS TO TRANSITION

Increasing employability of youth in care

Using a practical approach, the program will

- improve economic outcomes for youth,
- increase the earning potential of youth,
- position youth to obtain jobs of better quality and formality,
- improve long-term educational outcomes for youth,
- provide interventions that include non-academic supports in social-cognitive skills,
- increase employer satisfaction with new hires,
- strengthen youth abilities in areas that employers consider particularly important when hiring new employees,
- transform personal behaviour and social attitudes of youth,
- create life plans and equip youth with the skills to take steps toward achieving their goals,
- help youth to better understand healthy personal behaviours, thus decreasing outcomes such as teen pregnancies, drug and alcohol abuse and homelessness.
